

Women's Initiatives for Gender Justice

Legal Internship Position – Immediate Opening

The Women's Initiatives for Gender Justice is seeking law or graduate students with a strong background in international law and strong legal research skills, and a good knowledge of the International Criminal Court (ICC), for a spring 2010 (February – May) legal internship. The internship requires fluency in written and spoken English; additional French language skills are strongly preferred. The legal internship is full-time, however, for exceptional candidates based in the Netherlands, part-time internships may also be a possibility.

Legal interns will make an essential contribution to the work of the Legal Team. Tasks may include: monitoring, summarising, and analysing filings, decisions, and proceedings of the ICC; research projects on the work of the Court and issues of gender and international criminal law; contributions to our events and program work; English/French translations; and some administrative work. The legal internship will provide an excellent opportunity to gain in-depth knowledge about the work of the Women's Initiatives for Gender Justice and the work of the ICC.

This is an unpaid internship based in our Hague office.

In order to apply for Legal Intern position, please send the following information to info@iccwomen.org, with “application for spring 2010 Legal Internship” in the subject line:

1. Curriculum vitae
2. Dates of availability – Please note that this is an immediate opening, and we are seeking candidates who can start as soon as possible.
3. Details of self-funding
4. One A4-page (about 500 words) explaining why you are interested in interning or volunteering with us. Please include in this letter your connection to gender and women's rights issues as well as a description of your expertise and how that may be of benefit to us. Please include any other information you think might be of relevance to us, e.g., overseas experience, proficiency in languages other than English and French, experience in working for an NGO, etc.
5. Contact information for two references, including one employer; those selected for interviews will be asked to provide letters of reference.

Before sending your application, please review the information on our website (www.iccwomen.org) carefully.

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis for this internship. A notice will be posted on our website once the position is filled. This position is separate from the previously advertised position for Summer 2010 Legal Interns. The deadline for those applications remains 15 February.

Only short-listed individuals will be invited for an interview. No phone calls, please.
